Did you know: The top 10 in demand jobs in 2010, did not exist in 2004?

Students are currently preparing for jobs that don't yet exist... using technologies that haven't been invented in order to solve problems we don't even know are problem yet? (Shift Happens, YouTube.com) Join us during Global Entrepreneurship Week for an intriguing discussion with a panel of technology entrepreneurs who will share their “unlikely” career paths, how they are solving 21st century problems with technology, and how their gender impacts the way they do business.
